INTRODUCTORY.

THE history of this effort can be briefly told. At the Quarter-Centennial Celebration in 1867, the Alumni Association was formed. In the public address delivered before the Association in 1870, Rev. H. Clay Trumbull advocated the collection of an alumni record. At the business meeting of the alumni in 1871 the project was again revived and a Committee consisting of Rev. H. Clay Trumbull and Prof. Judson Smith was appointed to present the matter to the Board of Trustees. The Trustees not only approved the undertaking but also assumed the expense of it, and Rev. S. T. Seelye, D. D., and Hon. E. H. Sawyer were chosen their Committee to co-operate with the Committee of the Alumni. Nobody being found during the succeeding year to assume the work, it was urged upon one who was not himself an alumnus, but who had the other advantage of being resident in Easthampton. The apology for this late appearance of a work begun in 1872 must be the difficulties of the task. There was not even a complete collection of annual catalogues with which to begin the record. And after the list of catalogues had been with some difficulty and delay filled they furnished no reliable knowledge regarding who were and were not alumni. For forming the alumni list, reliance has been placed upon the memory of men known to be members of the various classes. The rule adopted has been that all who have here completed a preparation for college, or scientific or professional school, and all who have finished a course of study in any department, should be called alumni.

Under the administration of the first principal there was no formal graduation and no classification of the school. The same was largely true of the English Department under the second principal. The difficulty of making an accurate list of the alumni is at once apparent. It will prove a strange chance if the list as given is correct. Additions to those named are earnestly invited from all who can give such information.

The second difficulty was to learn the whereabouts of these men. Most of them were lost to the recollection of those within knowledge. The meagre catalogues of the old "Memorandum Society" furnished little help. But by the aid of College Records and by a brisk correspondence with pastors and postmasters most of those sought have been found or their history traced. It has not been unusual to trace a man through many States of our Union by this correspondence.

The third difficulty has been to obtain replies from persons, whose post-offices were known. Long delays have ensued which have greatly hindered the progress of the work. Replies are arriving even at the time of going to press. Many will doubtless be received afterwards and others may be incited to respond because they know the record is an accomplished fact. In this belief the questions used in gathering this edition are here given. The replies will be placed on file and published in the next edition.

1. Place and date of your birth.
2. Did you complete a course of study here?
3. Studies you have pursued since leaving here, with dates of graduation from colleges or other higher institutions of learning.
4. Different occupations you have followed with dates of entering and leaving them.
5. Profession you have chosen with date of entering it.
6. Civil offices filled and honors received.
7. Service in the war for the Union and your rank at the close of the war, and brevet commission since received.

8. Books you have written or edited.
9. Date of marriage and number of children.
10. Present post-office address.
11. Sign your full name.

The fourth difficulty has been the preparation of the record from the mass of letters received and the correction of the proof. Thousands of dates, and tens of thousands of figures have been transcribed. Many slips of the pen must have occurred, and many oversights in the proof have happened. All corrections will be most thankfully received and recorded.

The encouragement and aid which have been given in the preparation of the Record, have been among its chiefest gratifications to the editor. Especially is mention due to the following, who have acted as class secretaries. Charles B. Ruggles (1856 Cl.), Prof. H. H. Goodell (1858 Cl.), Lewis F. Whitin (1860 Cl.), Rev. James T. Graves (1861 Cl.), Thomas E. McKinlay, Esq. (1862 Cl.), Rev. P. W. Lyman (1863 Cl.), John H. Reed (1867 Sc.), Henry H. Sawyer (1867 Cl.), Frederic Talcott (1868 Sc.), E. A. Bradford (1869 Cl.), Sidney Dickinson (1870 Cl.), Walter H. Camp (1871 Sc.). Valuable aid has also been rendered by Franklin B. Dexter (1857 Cl.), Secretary of Yale College; Prof. H. H. Goodell (1858 Cl.) of Amherst Agricultural College; and F. W. Olds (1872 Cl.) of Williamstown, by searching the records of Yale, Amherst and Williams respectively. Aid has also been given in gathering records by Lyman H. Bagg (1865 Cl.), Walter B. Platt (1870 Sc.) and George E. Langdon (1870 Cl.). This list might be still more largely extended by the mention of those who have greatly assisted by correspondence, searching city directories, etc.

The records of the classical classes of 1858, 1860, 1863, 1869 and 1870, and the scientific classes of 1866, 1867 and 1871 were entirely gathered by the secretaries of those classes and are inserted without change from their reports.

Many replies have been received from those who do not claim to be alumni. It has been decided to publish every letter received. Correspondence from former students is cordially and earnestly solicited. All information of the history of any former student, or teacher, or trustee will be carefully preserved for future publication.

Please send such communications to Joseph H. Sawyer, Easthampton, Mass.

* * A last word of explanation regarding the arrangement of this Record is necessary. The list of alumni was made from the information at hand last October. It was decided to place each name, whether reported or unreported, in the class to which the person belonged. While the Record has been going through the press, farther information has been received which has led to the reporting of others, who were entitled to be classed as alumni, in the list added at the end. And the names of a few more have been marked in the index as alumni, concerning whom no other information has been obtained. The incompleteness of this work is thus necessarily rendered more apparent.

ART. II. All the Alumni of the Seminary ; those who may be or may have been Trustees or Teachers, shall be considered as members of this Association.

ART. III. The object of this Society shall be to promote union and mutual good feeling among the Alumni, and to advance the interests of Williston Seminary in all proper ways.

ART. IV. The officers shall be a President, five Vice-Presidents, a Secretary, a Treasurer and an Executive Committee of five persons, all to be chosen by ballot at the annual meeting.

ART. V. The office of Secretary and Treasurer may be vested in one person.

ART. VI. The Secretary and a majority of the Executive Committee shall be residents of Easthampton, or its immediate neighborhood.

ART. VII. The general duties of the officers shall be such as are common to those holding trusts in associations of a similar nature.

ART. VIII. The annual meeting shall be at some convenient hour on one of the days of anniversary week, the time and place to be notified by the Secretary.

ART. IX. The officers shall hold their offices respectively till a new election takes place.

WILLISTON SEMINARY.

WILLISTON SEMINARY had its beginnings in the consecration, in 1832, of a considerable sum of money by Hon. Samuel Williston, to the service of mankind. The specific object of his charities was not determined until after years of deliberation and counsel. The Seminary was announced through a series of articles in The Hampshire Gazette, signed "Old Hampshire." The Act of Incorporation bears date February, 1841. Work was at once begun, the corner-stone was laid June 17, and in December of the same year the school was opened for pupils. It was a favorite plan of the first principal to have his pupils study in a school-room under his direction. When he was furnishing the first building, Mr. Williston said to Mr. Wright, "If you think we shall ever have a hundred pupils here, I will place a hundred chairs in the school-room." Mr. Wright thought he would risk it. Ninety pupils appeared during the first term, and the school-room soon proved too small. There was then one building (two stories) of wood—with dormitories for sixty—besides the boarding-house. In 1844, a second building, of brick (three stories)—the present Middle Hall—was erected. The dormitories must then have accommodated 140. The wooden building was burned in March, 1857. It was at once replaced by a brick building—the present South Hall, (three stories high,) which, besides recitation rooms, has dormitories for 48. The Gymnasium, (two stories,) was erected in 1864. North Hall was built in 1866, (four stories high). This contains only one recitation room, and increases the dormitory accommodations to 215. The Astronomical Observatory was erected in 1872. All these buildings are of brick. The Seminary also owns the residences of the principal and janitor.

In the announcement of the Seminary, its property is set at $27,000 ; in 1843 it stood at $30,000 ; in 1844 at $50,000 ; in 1850 at $55,000 ; in 1856 at $65,000 ; in 1858 at $78,000 ; in 1859 at $82,000 ; in 1864 at $140,000 ; in 1865 at $144,000 ; in 1866 at $225,000 ; in 1870 at $250,000 ; in 1873 at $270,000. By his will, Mr. Williston has left the institution a large endowment. The provisions of this will are given in a statement at the close of this article. Besides this, the Seminary may be said to own a prize fund, donated by friends of the school, the income of which is of use to the students.

The first catalogues speak of Easthampton as being four miles from Northampton, and twelve miles from Westfield on the post-road from the former place to Hartford. "The stage passes the Seminary for Westfield on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, and returns from Westfield soon after the arrival of the afternoon trains from Boston, on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays." In 1845, the town had grown to the importance of having a daily stage from Westfield. In 1846, the Connecticut River Railroad had reached Northampton, and a daily stage ran from there. In 1857, occurs the announcement of the Hampshire and Hampden Railway, running through the town from Westfield to Northampton. Now there is additional railroad communication by a branch road from the Connecticut River Railroad at Mount Tom.

The first catalogues simply give a list of studies which were pursued in the two departments. There was no term arrangement of studies and no classification of students. Since then the courses of study have continually grown more definite and the school is now strictly graded. While students are allowed to select their course most of them are pursuing a regular course. In the early catalogues the philosophical and chemical apparatus is given worth $1,000. Now there is a recently purchased apparatus in these departments amounting in value to many thousands, while very complete instruments and means of illustration are provided in all the subjects taught. The Seminary has had three principals and eighty-eight teachers. Tracing the catalogues there is manifest a growing permanency in the board of instructors.

The Seminary opened with a male and female department. The latter was suspended in 1864. The largest number of ladies in attendance during any year was 187, and the smallest 44. There were 54 names of ladies in the catalogue of 1864. The first catalogue contains 191 names—two-thirds of these in the English course. The total rose rapidly until in 1846 it stood at 542. After that it declined and the yearly aggregate stood between 300 and 400 until the discontinuance of the ladies' department. The average term attendance since the war has stood at 175. The current term has 200. During the first five years of the Seminary's existence 95 per cent. of the pupils were from New England—60 per cent. from Hampshire County and 30 per cent. from Easthampton. As high schools were developed in the neighboring towns this local patronage fell off and the growth of South Hadley Seminary affected the number of ladies. During the second five years the percentage from New England had dropped to 90 and the percentage from Hampshire County to 33. For the next ten years the New England percentage stood at 85 and the Hampshire County percentage continued at 33. With the increased cost of board and the continued development of home schools these percentages continued to decline, until at present that from New England is 50 and from Hampshire County 10—half of whom are from Easthampton. This indicates that the Seminary began as a local school and served the purpose of a high school for many neighboring towns. It has ceased to be local and has become national. What was said of the courses of study indicates that the school has ceased to be largely composed of irregular scholars, pursuing no fixed course, and absent a large part of the year. It has become a school with a fixed course and the pupils remaining are taken through a progressive series of studies. It is not implied by this statement that the school was inferior in its early years. Rather is this shown—that the trustees and teachers have never failed to make an adequate effort to meet the increasing demands of education.

The Prudential Committee of the Board of Trustees have authorized the following statement regarding the plans for the future :

“The late Founder, by his will, has secured to the Seminary a munificent endowment. Upon the settlement of the estate the Institution receives $200,000; in a few years thereafter it will receive $100,000 more; and in process of time $300,000 additional. It was the design and hope of the Founder to make not a College, nor a Professional School, but a Secondary Institution of far higher order than any now existing. The courses of instruction are to be divided into distinct Professorships. To the charge of these are to be appointed men of eminent talent, scholarship and culture—men who by experience are adepts in teaching and who will devote themselves exclusively to the interests of the Seminary. The number of Professors and Instructors is to be sufficient to meet all the requirements of the instruction and they are to receive such compensation and to have such hours of labor that they can perfect themselves in their departments and pursue their researches beyond the mere necessities of the class room. The Classical Department will afford the most complete and thorough preparation for the best colleges and also furnish a good training for those who contemplate going at once from the secondary school to professional study. Students in the English Class will lay the only solid foundation of all culture in a thorough mastery of the common English branches. In the Scientific Department young men are to be instructed in all the branches of science, literature and philosophy of a college course, and also in business forms and methods, in drawing and designing, and in architecture. Those who desire it will be taught in the most accomplished manner the French and German languages. This instruction will embrace not merely the literature of those tongues, but the art and practice of conversation in them.

“As soon as the estate is settled the Trustees will proceed at once to put in operation the means for the accomplishment of these designed results.”

SAMUEL WILLISTON.

BORN, June 17, 1795.

DIED, July 17, 1874.

HE was the son of Rev. Payson Williston, who settled as the first pastor of the First Church in Easthampton in 1789; the grandson of Rev. Noah Williston of West Haven, Conn., and Rev. Nathan Birdseye of Stratford, Conn. He is said to have inherited his mother's disposition and traits—patient perseverance, painstaking application to business and thrifty husbandry. He was designed of his father for the ministry, and he began his preparation at Phillips Academy, Andover. But his eyes failed and the plan of his life was changed. He entered the store of Arthur Tappan in New York as clerk, but soon returned to his native town and engaged in agriculture. This he in turn abandoned for the manufacture of covered buttons, which were then made by hand. Before leaving this business, he gave employment to one thousand families scattered through the Connecticut Valley. In 1835, Mr. Williston formed a co-partnership with Joel and Josiah Hayden, for the manufacture of machine-made buttons, then first introduced into this country from England. The business was begun at Haydenville, but was transferred to Easthampton in 1839. Mr. Williston remained president of this company through all its changes, until his death. He was also president of the Nashawannuck (suspender,) Co., the Williston Cotton Mills, the First National Bank and the Gas Company, all located in Easthampton. For a time also, he was president of the Easthampton Savings Bank and of the Easthampton Steam Pump Co. He also held large amounts of stock in all the other manufacturing interests in the town. He was first president of the Hampshire and Hampden Railway—now a part of the New Haven and Northamptton Railroad. He held large amounts of stock in other railroads and in various manufacturing and banking companies in towns adjoining his own—being president of the First National Bank of Northampton for many years, and also of the Greenville Manufacturing Co. (cotton cloths,) in the same town. This is a meagre summary of his business associations. He served his town in various offices of trust and responsibility. He represented Easthampton in the General Court of 1841 and was a member of the Senate in 1842 and 1843, when he declined a reelection.

Mr. Williston became very rich, chiefly by careful savings of small profits. He bestowed his wealth with liberal hand, and has laid the present generation and those that shall succeed under obligation to him. It is estimated that his benefactions during his life-time amounted to $1,000,000. In his will he has made provision for the distribution of three-fourths of a million more. He gave from principle and not from impulse. Consequently, he always weighed well the merits of the object presented for his aid. When he approved he gave well. His gifts to Williston Seminary are enumerated in the sketch preceding this. He began giving to Amherst College when the institution was in the depths of poverty and well-nigh given over as a failure. He saved the college to mankind, and by his example and personal solicitation stimulated others to give. He endowed two professorships and half of a third, beside an instructorship, built and equipped Williston Hall and assisted in the erection of other buildings, and gave large sums to the general fund. True to his character, after he had decided Amherst College was worthy his aid he never failed to help. In the words of the former treasurer "he always put his shoulder to the wheel." It was not unusual for him to pledge aid to "Amherst" or "Williston" before the money was made. He was also the largest benefactor of Iowa College and left it a gift in his will. He aided Mary Lyon in establishing Mount Holyoke Seminary. He was a benefactor of the Protestant College at Beirut, Syria. He was president, and virtually treasurer of the board of trustees of Williston Seminary from its origin to his death—a member of the board of trust of Amherst College from 1842, of the board of trust of Westboro, Mass., Reform School twelve years, and for a long time upon the board of an asylum for idiots in Boston, and also for many years a corporate member of the A. B. C.

F. M. To his native town he was a constant benefactor—and having provided for the churches, public library and other deserving objects in town, he left $10,000 in his will for the cemetery. He saw his native place grow from a village of 500 inhabitants to a town of 4,000, with a valuation exceeding two and a half millions, and a manufacturing capital aggregating $1,500,000. This was chiefly due to the enterprises originated by himself.

Of his person I need not speak. His face was familiar to you all.

Mr. Williston was married in the Spring of 1822, to Emily Graves, of Williamsburg. Five children were born to them, and all died in early childhood. To him may be applied that graceful tribute which was paid to Dr. John Phillips—"Without natural issue, he made posterity his heir." Mr. and Mrs. Williston reared five adopted children :—Lyman R. (No. 122), Harriet K. R., wife of President Clark (No. 32), Cecilia R., wife of M. F. Dickinson, Esq. (No. 533), Robert R. and Clara S., now Mrs. Rev. Joseph Lanman. Mr. Williston's funeral was attended at his residence on Monday, July 20. A memorial address, prepared at his request by Professor Tyler, of Amherst, was given in the Payson Church, September 13.

RECORDS OF THE TRUSTEES.

REV. EMERSON DAVIS, D. D., was pastor of the First Congregational Church in Westfield, Mass., when elected trustee. He was born at Ware, Mass., July 15, 1798; graduated at Williams College, 1821; was principal of the Westfield Academy; tutor in Williams College, and again principal of Westfield Academy prior to his pastorate; was fifth vice-president of Williams College; received degree of D. D. from Harvard in 1847; published a volume on the first half of the present century; left an unfinished manuscript of biographies of the Trinitarian clergymen of New England, five volumes. It is in the possession of the Congregational Library Association, Boston. Died of heart disease at Westfield, June 8, 1866.

Rev. JOHN MITCHELL was pastor of the Edwards Church, Northampton, Mass., when chosen trustee. He was born at Chester, Conn., December 29, 1794, and died at Stratford, Conn., April 28, 1870; graduated at Yale College, 1821; editor Christian Spectator, 1824; pastor at Fair Haven, Conn., 1830-6; pastor Edwards Church, Northampton, 1836-42; author of "The New England Churches," (a manual of the Congregational polity); "Notes from Over the Sea," (2 vols.); "Scenes and Characters in College;" "My Mother, or Recollections of Maternal Influence;" "Rachel Kell;" "Derwent," (a book of sketches.)

Rev. WILLIAM BEMENT was pastor of the Church in Easthampton at the time of his election; born at Ashfield, Mass., April 5, 1806; graduated at Dartmouth College, 1828. He is at present residing at Jersey City, N. J., and has retired from the ministry.

LUTHER WRIGHT, M. A., became trustee by act of incorporation and principalship. Record given among the teachers, page 33.

JOHN P. WILLISTON was a druggist and manufacturer of Payson's Indelible Ink when he became trustee; born in Easthampton, December 5, 1803—a brother of the founder; died in Northampton, January 4, 1872. He continued to manufacture Payson's Indelible Ink during his life; held the ordinary grades of town offices. In 1846 the Greenville Manufacturing Company was started by S. Williston, J. P. Williston and J. Hayden, of which he was agent and treasurer until his death. He was a director in Holyoke Water Power Company, in Northampton National Bank, and was interested in various local manufacturing enterprises. He was a frequent, and generous, and unostentatious giver to all good causes.

Rev. HEMAN HUMPHREY, D. D., was President of Amherst College when elected trustee; born at West Simsbury, Conn., May 20, 1779; graduated at Yale College, 1805; studied theology with Rev. Asahel Hooker of Goshen, Conn.; settled over Fairfield Congregational Church, 1807-17; pastor at Pittsfield, 1817-23; was President of Amherst College twenty-two years; lived at Pittsfield in retirement from 1845 until his death, April 3, 1861.

ADDENDA.

No. 248, (E. M. PEASE) contains two errors; Dr. Pease was born December, 1828, and he is unmarried; these errors originated as follows: a record without any signature was received from a Springfield physician; subsequently it was ascertained that Dr. Pease had forwarded his reply; it was inferred that the unsigned record was his, and the mistake was not discovered until it was too late to correct it in the body of the work.

No. 1411, (GEORGE C. SMITH) born in North Hadley, Mass.,

August 31, 1826; completed a course of English; in Wisconsin two years, farming; in North Hadley two years, lumbering; in California six years, a merchant; in South America one year, traveling; in Chicago four years, a merchant; in North Hadley fourteen years, farming and lumbering; selectman of North Hadley, five years; married December 5, 1860, three children. Address, North Hadley, Mass.

No. 1455, (ROLAND GIDEON CURTIN) born in Bellefonte, Penn., in 1839; completed English course; studied at the University of Pennsylvania and received the degrees of M. D. (1864) and Ph. D.; assistant United States geologist in 1868 with Professor Hayden; naval store-keeper at the Philadelphia navy yard during the war; now a practising physician; unmarried. Address, 332 South 17th street, Philadelphia, Penn.

No. 180, (JOHN A. GARDNER) appointed, February 1875, United States Attorney for the district of Rhode Island.

No. 271, (WILLIAM E. DICKINSON) has resigned his pastorate at Walpole, N. H.

No. 386, (NELSON G. HALL,) is in ill health and farming at Guilford, Conn.; married November 13, 1860; two children.

No. 429, (JOHN C. MIDDLETON) has removed from New Britain and is rector of St. Paul's Church, Glen Cove, L. I.

No. 687, (S. B. RAND) is reported on his way home in ill health.

No. 720, (WILLIAM H. CRANSTON) is a photographer at Corry, Penn.

No. 914, (HENRY H. SAWYER) has been appointed book-keeper and paymaster of the Nashawannuck Company, at Easthampton, Mass.

INDEX.

NOTE.—This index contains the names of all male students, found in the Seminary Catalogues, excepting the names of those who have been present during the current year. The dates and abbreviations preceding the names are dates of catalogues and designations of classes in which those names last occur. Those, whose names are thus preceded by dates and class designations, are unreported. All records are numbered, and where a date is supplanted by a number, the number refers to the record of the individual in the body of the report. A name in italics indicates the name of an alumnus.

ABBREVIATIONS.—c., Classical ; e., English ; s., Scientific ;—m., middle ; j., junior. Annexed to a date preceding 1850, the abbreviations c. and e., denote simply departments ; annexed to dates from 1850 to 1869 inclusive, they denote also the senior classes in those departments. The name of the English department was changed to Scientific department in 1870, and the abbreviations c. and s., annexed to dates subsequent to 1869, denote senior classes, while the abbreviation e., denotes the class in preparation for either department of the Seminary. A * indicates that the person is deceased.
